Intrigue At Oakhaven Plantation

takes place in a Southern Plantation in Louisiana. You arrive there, upon request from your grandmere, to discuss matters concerning the inheritance of the house and lands due to the fact that grandmere is old and is ready to decide who she is going to leave her wealth to. After you learn what you must do, another relative/character arrives to learn the same. At this point, you have puzzles to solve which will gain you points to try to beat the character you don't want to win. You may swap between the two characters at any point and they each will have different puzzles.
